ABOUT KOGS

Full membership comprises founder members and registered to practice qualified medical gynecologists and obstetricians in Kenya; Associate membership includes either qualified medical gynecologists or obstetricians in Kenya or individuals involved in disciplines other than obstetrics and gynecology who in the opinion of the Council contribute to the progress of the Society, Art and Science; Honorary membership comprising individuals of high standing in society and in the profession who in the opinion of Council have made important contributions to the field or cause of obstetrics and gynecology; and Corporate membership which may be conferred by the Council to any society, company, organization or any other body corporate in recognition of significant monetary or other value contribution to the Society in advancement of the Society's objectives and interests of obstetrics and gynecology.

KOGS members are guided by the WHO's "five-star doctor" principles of a Health Professional, namely; being a health care provider; learner/teacher; researcher; manager of resources and a leader.

Message from the President

It brings me immense joy and gratitude to reflect on the past and the journey of KOGS as an organization. KOGS has celebrated momentous occasions and navigated through challenges that have tested its resilience. With the KOGS celebrating its 48th anniversary, I believe that the next phase involves not only sustaining the growth we have achieved but also in understanding and cultivating the impact of such growth. This requires a more targeted approach, emphasizing quality over quantity and measuring success by the depth of influence and impact rather than sheer scale.

Our work directly impacts the lives of women who are daughters, wives, and mothers with their own personal goals. Let's make sure that we support them to achieve their life's ambition.

In this congress, let us reflect on the guiding theme: "RE-IMAGINING REPRODUCTIVE AND MENTAL HEALTH FOR UHC: FROM BENCH TO BEDSIDE AND BEYOND." This is in line with the WHO response to Mental Health Promotion and Prevention interventions including care and treatment whereby member states have committed to implementing the comprehensive mental health action plan 2013-2030.

This aims at improving mental health by strengthening effective leadership and governance, providing comprehensive, integrated and responsive community-based care, implementing promotion and prevention strategies, and strengthening information systems, evidence and research.

I express my deepest gratitude to each one of you for increasing KOGS' positive impact through your commitment, passion, and unwavering support. Together, let us move forward with the shared purpose of making KOGS an even greater force for positive change.
